This turned into a pulling match with the other resident turning the chair loose and shoving ██████████. | | | | | ██████████ was in classroom 6; Reedy was the teacher. Reedy came out into the hallway and asked staff to request that ██████████ take advantage of a cool down period; she advised us that ██████████ told another resident, "To suck his [sic] dick." Reedy was offended by ██████████ continual use of sexual remarks in class. McCormick asked ██████████ to come into the hallway for a cooldown. ██████████ immediately pushed his chair back into a corner and adamantly expressed that he won't leave the class. He displays his pencil as if he would use it to stab McCormick. I had Bausone remove all the students from the class. Before Reedy left the class, after numerous requests, she identified another pencil, which I had been aware of, by pointing at it. ██████████ grabs the pencil and stands up, displaying both as weapons. I advise Bausone to retrieve the riot shield. I move all the tables and chairs away from ██████████ to provide a safer area for any possible physical intervention. Mayles arrives and begins talking with ██████████. Bausone, on my request, leaves the shield outside the classroom door. After a couple minutes, ██████████ responds to Mayles and drops the pencils. Mayles and McCormick escort ██████████ to his room without further incident." | | | | | | | | | |
